

The Power to Create

What if you had the power to create the relationships, career, and life you want? The reality is, we all have this power. The problem is we don't understand how it works and therefore we create our lives and businesses by default.

When we live life by default it's not long until we become victim to our emotions, to other people's bad behavior, and to the circumstances around us.

Wouldn't it be exciting to understand how to tap into this power?

In this inspiring keynote, Marlene Chism takes you through a journey of discovering the power within and shows how to maximize this power for your greatest good.

Marlene Chism is a professional speaker with the unique ability to speak across the boundaries of many types of audiences: from the fortune 500 executive to entrepreneur, to professionals. Marlene is a dynamic story-teller with the ability to take complex subjects and universal principles and make them immediately applicable to her audience. She is known for her thought-provoking yet down to earth practicality, her sharp wit and humor.

She is the author of two books: Stop Workplace Drama (Wiley 2011) and No-Drama Leadership (Bibliomotion 2015.) Marlene's passion is developing wise leaders and helping people discover, develop and deliver their gifts to the world.
